

Internet_13x13_2004-02-25

B.B. Huria

Across

- 1 The technology that puts pre-selected content directly on your computer screen from the Internet without your need to browse for it. (4)
- 4 IRC stands for Internet Relay XXXX. (4)
- 6 A protocol for remote computing on the Internet. (6)
- 7 The software protocol that the internet runs under. (6)
- 9 The largest on-line service. (3)

- 10 An interface that represents programs, files, and options with graphical images. (3)

- 11 DNS stands for Domain Name XXXXXXXX. (7)

- 13 An online discussion group or newsgroup. (5)

- 15 SIG stands for XXXXXXXX Interest group. (7)

- 18 FAQ stands for Frequently Asked XXXXXXXXXX. (9)

- 20 The protocol which newsgroups use. (4)

- 21 HTML stands for Hyper XXXX Markup language. (4)

Down

- 1 POP stands for XXXX Office Protocol. (4)

- 2 A communications protocol used by TCP/IP routers and PCs to connect your computer to the Internet using a telephone line. (4)

- 3 The protocol for the despatch of e-mail. (4)

- 4 A live, online discussion. (12)

- 5 A popular search engine for the Web. (9)

- 8 A method of chatting live with large groups of people via the internet. (3)

- 10 The most used type of scanned-in image file format. (3)

- 12 Commands or processes, waiting to be processed. (5)

- 14 Software that controls the execution of computer programs. (2)

- 16 PPP stands for Point-to-XXXXX Protocol. (5)

- 17 A freeware UNIX os for the pc (386 and above). (5)

- 19 An internet address, used in hypertext. (3)