

Deepavali_13x13_2003-10-22

B.B. Huria

Across

- 1 The THIRD day of the festival of Diwali is the most important day of XXXXXXXX-XXXX which is entirely devoted to the propitiation of Goddess Lakshmi. (7,4)
- 5 Decoration with lights all around. (12)
- 6 In Gujarat, this festival honours Lakshmi, the goddess of XXXXXX. (6)
- 9 Wealth. (4)

- 11 Last day of the dark fortnight of any lunar month. (8)

- 13 Devotional song. (6)

- 14 the common practice is to light small oil lamps (called XXXXs) and place them around the home, in courtyards, verandahs, and gardens, as well as on roof-tops and outer walls. (4)

- 15 It is the first day of the deepavali festival. (4,5)

Down

- 2 In Bengal, this festival of Diwali is associated with the goddess XXXX. (4)

- 3 The eatables offered to the God and thereafter the left over is distributed to the devotees. (6)

- 4 In north India, Diwali celebrates Rama's homecoming, that is his return to XXXXXXXX after the defeat of Ravana and his coronation as king. (7)

- 5 Bodily manifestation of a supernatural being. (11)

- 7 The god of Death. (4)

- 8 The more ancient of the two great epic poems in Sanskrit. (8)

- 10 The more common version of the name for Deepavali. (6)

- 12 The FOURTH day is XXXXX or VARSHAPRATIPADA which marks the coronation of King Vikramaditya and Vikaram-Samvat was started from this Padwa day. (5)