

Medicinal Properties _17x17_ 2008-10-11

B.B. Huria

Across

- 2 To maintain moisture in the body and the skin. Most cosmetics contain ____ agents. (9)
- 4 A substance used to calm nervousness. A soothing effect. (7)
- 5 Tending to check bleeding by contracting the tissues or blood vessels. (7)
- 6 Stimulating evacuation of feces. (8)
- 8 Analgesic (7)
- 9 Meaning to bring on vomiting. (6)
- 11 Encourages the evacuation of the bowel. Laxative effects. (9)

- 13 Used to kill germs, microbes, etc. Also prevents sepsis. (10)
- 16 A medication capable of causing the evacuation of parasitic intestinal worms. (9)
- 17 The gummy or slimy quality of substances, most often demulcents used to soothe irritated skin or mucosa. (12)
- 18 Medication that prevents the formation of gas in the alimentary tract or eases its passing. (11)

Down

- 1 A substance that relieves pain without inducing sleep or unconsciousness. (9)
- 3 To bring back normal health and strength. (11)
- 7 Used to shrink tissue, esp. of mucous membranes, and reduce discharge from tissues. (10)
- 8 Used in cases of intense itching such as that caused by eczema or vaginal infections. (12)
- 10 Stimulates sexual desire. (11)
- 12 Stimulates the production and elimination of bile from the liver. (10)
- 14 Increases the activity of an organ, cells, or metabolism; or boosts the effect of another substance used in synergy. (9)

- 15 A remedy that tones a specific organ, group of organs, or the internal systems as a whole. (5)